Green Gables

Gallatin Valley in the Yellowstone Collection embraces the rich and vast history of hickory furniture. As American settlers traveled West in the 1800's they discovered the incredible strength and usefulness of the hickory tree. Due to its strength and durability hickory has played an essential role in the making of tool handles, wagon wheels, and furniture throughout American history. The hickory saplings used in the Yellowstone collection are harvested through sustainable methods, and proudly hand crafted in America. Gallatin Valley brings a modern design flair to the timeless look that hickory furniture is known for.
